JTM 310 Tube Amp

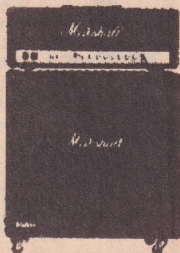

30 watts!

What a great sounding new small tube amp. The JTM 30 watt Marshalls are louder than many 50 watters and deliver a top quality tube sound clean or mean. 100% valve circuitry with a preamp that delivers the best sounding gnarly tube soaked overdrive I have ever heard. It walls with a Strat, it walls with a humbucker, it just walls. The clean sound is rich and full with lots of headroom. The spring reverb is thick and strong. Footswitchable from clean to overdrive. You also get an effects loop, extension speaker output and a DI output for recording or PA. This really is a great amplifier from Marshall with a great 'vintage' tone quality. Comes in a dual 10 inch speaker or single 12 inch speaker model. 60 watt versions also available see prices below.

JCM SLASH SIGNATURE

New!

The JCM Slash is Marshall's first ever 'Signature Amp' and an authentic re-issue of the classic 2555 Jubilee head from 1987. This hand-wired, all-valve amp is driven hard by 3 x ECC-83 preamp tubes and 4 x EL34 output valves for a total of 100 watts. It blends the majestic roar of the JCM 800 power stage with a highly versatile pre-amp. The addition of a footswitchable Lead Master control, which beefs up the pre-amp gain levels effectively makes the 2555 a two channel amp and gives you the ability to switch between a clean or overdriven sound. Also a push pull function on the Input Gain control gives you the option of a clean or distorted edge to the clean channel. The 2555's versatility is further enhanced by a Series Effects Loop and a 50 watt or 100 watt output switch for even greater control. Coming soon.

Marshall JCM Slash 100w Head $1995

"This is the amp that made 6 pretty successful albums, done countless sessions, survived two stage riots, three world tours and my inflexible approach to a particular sound. It's been flawless the entire time and wouldn't even consider trying anything else - something that consistent you just don't & *@ with! A lot of people are trying to shove different amps down my throat and I'm like, don't even bother. It's good exercise for them to carry 'em round though, I suppose."

"Congratulations to Venue Music on 15 great years!
 I want to thank you personally for selling more
 Marshall amps in Australia than ANY other store.
 You're Number 1 Down Under for Sales and Service"

Digital Percussion Synthesiser!

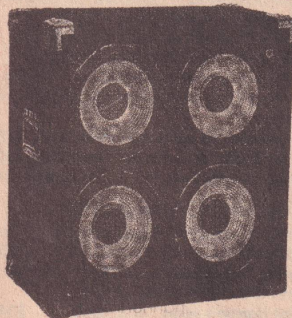

No other music store in Australia can offer you crazy deals like this! The Kawai XD-5 will deliver you incredible drum sounds for your next live or recording project. Sound Daughter Board

$399

Free delivery

Attention Sound Blaster Owners!

Do you want to lose your cheesy FM instrument sounds and replace them with top quality digital samples with some real KICK?

Do you want to give your games to rock your socks off?

Do you want to give your MIDI sequences that professional sound for less than it costs to hire a sound module for the weekend? Then you need one of these...O.K. so what's a daughterboard I hear you ask!

A daughterboard is a card that plugs onto a connector on most soundcards. Most Sound Blaster 16's as well as later SB's and some clones have this connection! (If you're unsure, check your sound card manual, or have a look at the upper edge of your sound card - there should be 2 rows of 13 pins. When you plug in the Yamaha DBX50G it instantly replaces the crummy FM chip on the card with great sounding Yamaha WaveTable samples. There is no software set-up to worry about, it's that easy!

The DBX50G uses the same sound chips as the expensive Yamaha sound modules and synths on this page. It has 16 part multi-timbrality and 32 voice polyphony and has THREE programmable effects processors built-in loaded with distortions, reverbs, chorus, exciter, Leslie and heaps more pro effects. But wait there's still more...the DBX50G comes with a free CD Rom with 20 great songs on board, 60 MIDI clips and the fun "Visual Arranger" software all for $399 with free Australia wide delivery and Aussie wide warranty. COMMON QUESTIONS ABOUT MIKES & WIRELESS

What is the difference between dual aerial (diversity) wireless systems and single aerial (non diversity) wireless systems ?

The receiver part of a modern wireless system will have one or two aerials (see T3 and T4 receivers on left). One receiver is included in a non-diversity system, two in a diversity system. Both types will work equally as well under almost all circumstances. ...99.8% of the time. Sometimes on the odd occasion a single aerial system may suffer for a tiny fraction of a second a 'dropout' caused by reflected signal interference. The 2 aerial or diversity systems will do a better job of resisting signal interruptions. The dual aerials act as a sort of 'insurance policy', since it is very unlikely that the signal to both aerials will be interrupted at the same instant. Many people mistakenly believe that a dual aerial system 'sounds' better, this is simply not true. They both 'sound' exactly the same.

What is the difference between a dynamic mike and a condenser mike ?

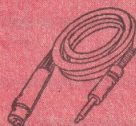

Dynamic mikes like the SM-58, BG3.0 etc use a simple magnet and coil of wire to convert sound to energy. A bit like a speaker in reverse. Good quality dynamic mikes offer very good sound quality, are very rugged and will tolerate years of rough handling and exposure to extreme temperature and humidity. Condenser mikes use an ultra-thin piece of plastic, metal or ribbon stretched above a piece of flat metal or backplate. This assembly is kept electrically charged. A change in this voltage is caused by soundwaves, this is then preamplified inside the mike. Condenser mikes do offer significant benefits; they can be very small (see WL93 left) very sensitive to extreme high and low frequencies and usually have a crisper cleaner sound. They almost have no handling noise and are often preferred by world class vocalists over dynamic mikes. A little less robust than dynamic mikes so do look after them if you buy one.

What's the difference between a unidirectional mike and an omnidirectional mike ?

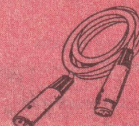

Easy; a unidirectional mike is only interested in sound coming from the front and sides of the mike head. It rejects sound from the rear thus picking up less room reverberation and feeding back easily. This type of mike is usually always preferred for vocals. An omnidirectional mike picks up sound equally from all sources in a 360 degree sphere. This is very advantageous for picking up sound from several different directions at one time eg: group vocals, string sections, cymbals etc but they are more prone to feedback. More suited to larger area miking and the studio.

What's the difference between balanced mike leads and unbalanced mike leads ?

A balanced mike cable contains two internal wires (one for the 'hot' signal and one for the 'return' signal) enclosed by shielding. This shield intercepts random electrical signals like radio, transformer field hum etc and 'drains' them to ground. A balanced mike cable will deliver much cleaner, quieter performance especially over a long distance. Unbalanced cable consists of a single wire surrounded by shielding, but in this case the shielding carries the 'return' portion of the audio signal as well as protecting the inner wire from electrical interference, so unbalanced cables are easily affected by fluorescent lights, radio frequency even taxi's and CB radios.

Unbalanced mike cable. Cannon to 1/4 inch Jack plug. These are more prone to interference. Use these only if you have no choice.

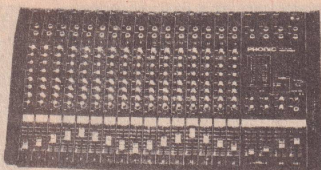

Balanced mike cable. Cannon to cannon. This type of cable offers better quality performance and should be used if possible.

Records like a dream.

The VS-880 has eight discrete tracks and each of these has eight "virtual tracks". This means that up to 8 takes can be recorded per track without recording over the previous versions. This provides a total of 64 recording tracks. No more track worries ever. At final mixdown you simply select the best take for each discrete track. The sound quality of every take is perfect. CD-quality perfect frequency response. No hiss, no wow and flutter and no crosstalk ever. You'll never use a tape recorder again.

No worries about ruining that perfect take.

With the VS-880's totally non-destructive recording and editing, you can easily return to any pre-recorded or pre-edited state. You can 'Undo' up to 999 edits, even after conducting multiple recording/editing sessions. To cancel the most recent 'Undo', use Redo. You have the creative choice to redo your song from any desired point instead of going back to the beginning and starting all over again. It's easy, it's logical and it's fast!

The digital advantage-total editing freedom.

Since you're not using tape, you get the advantages of powerful digital editing over your recording. You can cut, paste, move, insert or delete any musical segment. In seconds. And you'll never worry about erasing the wrong section because you can simply 'Undo' any task at any time. It's a breeze. Total time control is also yours, ideal for jingle writing or soundtracks etc. Compress or expand playback to a time length you can specify from 75% to 125% of the original. It's unreal and it works so well.

Easier to edit than anything before.

Insert a 'marker' any time in a Song. Since the VS-880 is a digital device you can find any marker instantly. Up to eight locate points can also be input and recalled. You can actually input up to 1,000 'markers' per Song. All virtual track performance data can be stored and named as a Song, complete with mixer, effects, mark and locate settings. The VS-880 can store up to 200 of these Songs.

Full-featured digital mixing.

The VS-880 digital mixer features eight + six inputs, eight recording busses, one stereo AUX send and one stereo master output. A coaxial digital input accepts a stereo digital signal. For plugging in your mikes and instruments etc there are 4 audio inputs with jack plug and RCA inputs. You can record up to 6 channels including four analog and digital stereo source, simultaneously on four tracks. Using the digital coaxial output you can archive your final mixes to DAT. Simple eh!

The power to mix the way you want.

Tell the VS-880 to be a 8-channel mixer/recorder or a 14-channel mixer capable of mixing 6 input sources and 8 recorder tracks at once. You can sync sequence data from an external midi system along with 8 recorded tracks for simultaneous playback and mix-down right on the VS-880: no submixer required...it's brilliant!

The VS-880 has a powerful built-in parametric EQ. All your tone changes are shown on the display for instant confirmation.

Musician oriented mixing makes all the difference.

Every mixer parameter setting including internal routing and EQ settings can be captured as a 'snapshot scene'. Up to eight scenes can be stored and switching scenes is as simple as touching a button. Fader movements can be recorded with an external MIDI sequencer for fully automated mix-downs.

Use the storage media of your choice.

The VS-880 is equipped with an internal IDE and standard external SCSI interfaces to give you extensive storage media flexibility. Your storage options are entirely up to you. ...internal hard drive, external hard drive, external SCSI, Zip drive, Iomega Jaz drive etc etc. Please call for more information...we actually do know what we are talking about, that would make a difference wouldn't it!

Studio effects included.

Eliminate the need for external effects racks by installing the optional VS8F-1 effects expansion board. This powerful board provides 2 independent stereo multi-effects processors featuring 200 essential patches of reverbs, delays, choruses, eq, flangers overdrives, distortions, amp simulation etc...just plug in your electric guitar and pull the sound from hell in 30 seconds or change your vocal to sound like an AM radio DJ...it sounds huge and it's so easy to use!

Operation that's designed for musicians.

The VS-880 is as easy to use as your old 4-track machine or it can be as sophisticated as any digital professional mega-studio. You can just plug in your mike and go for it or you can sync to MIDI with fully automated mixing facilities etc. Stack two VS-880's via MIDI and you'll get 16 discrete tracks and as many as 128 total tracks.

M225

Maton 225 Series

Handmade quality!

Without doubt the best sounding acoustic and acoustic electric guitars in their price range! Handmade in Australia from the best quality materials. This amazing guitar sounds better than some imported models costing twice the price. All Matons are handmade from timbers no more than 3mm thick resulting in instruments that are lightweight and tone rich especially in the mids and low-end sound range where cheaper instruments are lacking in tone. The Maton 225 sounds warm, rich and full on every note on every string!

The 225 series below all feature solid-spruce tops, Queensland maple backs and sides, WA Jarrah fingerboards, thin nitro-cellulose satin finish that enables the wood to 'breathe'. An easy 12in radius fingerboard with smooth polished frets and a super nice action is guaranteed. These guitars not only sound great they play beautifully...you won't regret buying this quality! The excellent Maton pickup and preamp system was developed in Australia in conjunction with Tommy Emmanuel and delivers a top quality natural acoustic sound through any amp or PA system. The Maton preamp features a strong 3-way eq to give the player total control on stage. We can safely deliver any Maton to any address in Australia. All Matons come with an Australia-wide limited lifetime warranty that covers materials and workmanship. Left-handed models are available at an extra charge of 15%. EM325C

Handmade quality!

The 325 Series features different timbers for a slightly better overall tone than the 225. The solid-spruce top is 'A' grade and the back and sides are made from Queensland walnut instead of maple. This results in a small increase in tonal richness and detail over the range. Fingerboard is rosewood. Same excellent neck, action and overall feel. I love these instruments, they are a pleasure to sell and own. Delivery to you is so easy and 100% safe no matter where you live in the country. Left-handed models again add 15%. The 325 also comes in a thinline version with pickup and a 12-string version. Just pick up the telephone.

In Melbourne in 1946 a young man by the name of Bill May started hand-crafting guitars in a small workshop in Canterbury. Bills devotion to quality saw the company grow from strength to strength over the last 50 years with Maton now making more guitars than ever and many think better guitars than ever.

Maton are celebrating their 50th Anniversary with the release of a special guitar. This magnificent acoustic will be made of exquisitely figured solid 100yr old Victorian Blackwood (back and sides) with a 'AAA' grade Spruce top, a Queensland maple neck, ebony fingerboard, abalone inlay around the soundhole and body, gold hardware. Only 50 of these magnificent instruments will be handmade. They will retail for $5,000.00 Over 20 have been pre-sold sight unseen, if you are interested in obtaining one of these future collectables give us a call. We have only 2 coming and once the 50 are sold, they will never be made again. Congratulations Maton. it's a pleasure to sell such a fine Australian product. Good luck for the next 50 years !

Venue Turns 15

This year 1996 is our 15th birthday and we are celebrating with a whole year of Special Promotions and Super Sales. In 1981 we opened our downtown Sydney Drutt Street store with a goal to provide all Australian musicians with an international standard of range, top service and aggressive prices. Thankfully we had the recipe correct and after 15 years of trading the number of music stores in the City of Sydney dropped from 9 to just 2 ! Our mailing-list has grown to nearly 45,000 individuals and organisations who rely on our catalogue to keep them up to date, supply them with new product and offer them deals that all the other music stores simply cannot compete with ! 15 years ago most Australians were nervous about buying musical gear by phone or mail-order. With our fast, safe delivery and our famous 10-day money back satisfaction guarantee we have seen a big change in attitude toward this type of purchasing, and, thanks to you our loyal customers we intend to make our catalogues Bigger and Better as time goes by. We want to take this opportunity to thank every single one of you !
